European Week of Regions and Cities University 6th Master Class

Programme

Background

As part of the 16th European Week of Regions and Cities, the biggest event world-wide on regional and urban development, the 6th Master Class on EU Cohesion Policy will be held for 30 PhD students and early-career researchers between 7 and 11 October 2018. The Master Class is a unique format to connect aspiring researchers to the making and implementation of EU Cohesion Policy. It will include presentations of papers by the participants as well as lectures and panel debates with policy-makers, EU officials and senior academics to improve understanding of and research on EU Cohesion Policy. In particular, the Master Class will serve to

- discuss recent research on European regional and urban development and EU Cohesion Policy;
- enable PhD students and early career researchers to exchange views and network with policy makers, EU officials and senior academics;
- raise awareness and understanding of the research potential in the field of EU Cohesion Policy.

In 2018, the Master Class will focus on EU Cohesion Policy's governance, its territorial aspects and its effectiveness, as well as on its reform for the period 2021-2027.

Organisation

The Master Class will be organised and led by the European Commission's DG for Regional and Urban Policy (DG REGIO), the European Committee of the Regions (CoR) and the RSA Europe, the European foundation funded by the Regional Studies Association, in cooperation with the European Regional Science Association (ERSA), the Association of European Schools of Planning (AESOP), and the European Parliamentary Research Service (EPRS).

Participants and themes

30 PhD students and early career researchers from 13 EU Member States and two non-EU countries have been selected to attend the 2018 Master Class based on

- 1) their academic background and achievements;
- 2) the quality of their application and the submitted paper abstract; and
- 3) the broadest possible geographical and gender balance.

They will present their final papers related to one of these themes:

- 1) Reshaping governance and institutional relations;
- 2) Territorial cohesion and cooperation;
- 3) Policy effectiveness in response to development challenges for European regions.

All papers will be summarised in a 'book of papers', which was at the disposal of all involved in the Master Class in September. There will be a total of four sessions during which the attendees will have the possibility to present their papers and discuss them with officials of the EU institutions.
