Dear Members of ERSA, dear Colleagues,

The 60th Ersa Congress concluded last Friday. This year's first online edition resulted in an acknowledged success with over 840 participants from all over Europe and beyond, and more than 700 presentations.

For all participants, the replay of the sessions will be available on the virtual platform by the end of next week.

The new academic year is about to start, and I would like to wish you all success with your upcoming activities or projects 2021-2022!

ERSA agenda as well as our sections' agendas will continue to be very rich and attractive in the coming weeks and months, showing the great dynamism and the resilience of our community.

I will be really happy to share with you this year's new events and to work together for the promotion of Regional Science.

With best wishes

André Torre
ERSA President

Internal news

In Memoriam

Professor Åke E. Andersson passed away on 14 August 2021, at the age of 85. Our thoughts go to his family, friends and colleagues.

Åke's research focused on regional development, especially the importance of economies of scale and interdependencies between firms, households and other actors.

Åke was an intellectual giant also internationally and a centre of gravity in regional science in all continents.

In 2005 professor Andersson received the European Prize in Regional Science during the 45th ERSA Congress in Amsterdam.
