

The issue includes:

- 36th ERSA Summer School Call for applications: extended deadline
- Ongoing Calls on ERSA Sections' Agendas
- Journal news
- Publication of ERSA-RSAI members
- Vacancies

Dear Members of ERSA, dear Colleagues,

I hope that you're well.

At the early springtime, I am pleased to bring you some news on the ongoing developments of #ERSA2023 Congress that will take place in Alicante and online (28 Aug.-1 Sept.)

The Call for Abstracts (and) papers has been very successful with over 1200 submissions from Europe and beyond. The outcome of the review as well as the start of registration is scheduled on 24 April.

Once again the Congress programme looks very promising and will include outstanding keynote lectures as well as interesting roundtables with policy makers. Stay tuned!

New calls from our sections APDR and GfR are included in this monthly enews and last but not least, we have conceded more time to apply for this year's Summer School in Iasi.

With best wishes,

André Torre, ERSA President

ERSA-RSAI Members Publish

Great Minds in Regional Science, Vol. 2

Editors:

Peter Batey, University of Liverpool, UK

David Plane, University of Arizona, USA

About the book:

- Seeks to present a contemporary view on the scientific relevance of the work done by great thinkers in regional science.
- Each chapter combines factual biographical information about the 'Great Mind,' a description of their major contributions, and a discussion of the broader context of their work, as well as an assessment of its current relevance, scientific recognition, and policy impact.
- Attempts to fill a gap in our knowledge and to respond to the growing interest in the formation and development of the field of regional science and its key influential figures.
