

Workshop on REGIONAL STUDIES and TERRITORIAL DEVELOPMENT Place-Based Policies and Actions May 19th, 2025

The Department of Economics, Management and Business Law (DEMEDI) and the Laboratory of Applied Economics (LEA) of the University of Bari "Aldo Moro" are pleased to announce the Workshop on Regional Studies and Territorial Development. The workshop will explore the evolution of regions and territories in a changing world. As conflicts and economic shifts reshape global dynamics, local and regional development – and the related policy instruments – becomes a key strategy for resilience and sustainability.

- Selected speakers (up to a maximum of 5) are not charged any fees, but they need to organize their travel and accommodation in Bari.
- Contributions should relate to the workshop's themes and offer useful insights into local policies and actions for territorial development.
